

Hi Rachel,

On behalf of The Channels, I wanted to give you a response regarding the demands made by Michael Shermer before the deadline provided by Timothy Neufeld. After careful consideration of the accusations made by Mr. Shermer, The Channels has decided not to remove the article from its website. We would, however, like to extend an invitation for Mr. Shermer to submit a Letter to the Editor to be published in The Channels, wherein he is more than welcome to outline any issues he has found with our material, as well as clear up any confusion regarding any accusations he believes have been made against him. I have included the link to the guidelines for submitting a Letter to the Editor, and would also be more than happy to address a submission directly to channels@sbcc.edu.
